Subject: Privacy Policy

Personal Information: The Warrior Connection (TWC) is the sole owner of information of its constituents, donors, and participants. TWC does not sell, rent, disclose or share personal information of its constituents with any third parties. TWC uses constituent contact information to contact them and may also use it to update constituents about new programs, offers and services, periodically.

Payment Information: TWC uses secure internet payment gateways to receive payments from donors. TWC accepts payments via credit card/debit card and other such payment methods. TWC may collect information like the name of the consumer, credit/debit card number, respective expiration date, the amount to be charged, and billing address to verify and process payments made by the consumer. However, this information may be shared with the bank or the concerned payment service provider, strictly to the extent required for payment processing.

TWC does not store any information related to the credit/debit card numbers of the donors, as payments are processed through the secure payment gateway provided by an authorized third party service provider.

Opt-Out Preferences: During your interaction with TWC, we might request you to share your personal information, which might include: your name, contact details, phone & mailing details, email information, credit/debit card information. At any point, if you would like to opt-out of our services or messaging and would like TWC to remove all the information we hold for you, you can choose to unsubscribe or contact us at 1-866.278.3155.

Cookies: TWC's website does not use cookies that can infringe the consumers' privacy. TWC reserves the right to update this privacy policy by posting changes online without notice to consumers.
